DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species I: A mechanical resonator with capacitive actuation via an electrode that is "curved" as shown by, e.g., Figs. 1, 2, 6 and 19.

Species II: A mechanical resonator with capacitive actuation via an electrode that vibrates "in a resonance mode at a same resonant frequency as the vibration body" as shown in Fig. 11B.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species I is considered readable upon claims 1-5, 7-18 and 22-25.

Species II is considered readable upon claims 6 and 19-21.

The following claim(s) are generic: None.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature of "curved" electrodes of Species I are not required to "vibrate" as required by the different special technical feature of Species II. Additionally, the special technical features, when considered to be the functions of the two species, are also not the same, as the function of Species I is to improve capacitance change per unit displacement of the vibrating body/resonator, while the function of Species II is to reduce parasitic capacitance.

4. A telephone call was made to Mr. Lawrence E. Ashery (Reg. No. 34,515) on March 20, 2008 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to BARBARA SUMMONS whose telephone number is (571)272-1771. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th, M-Fr.
